Re: Iridium AxxessPoint Mail & Web mobile application compatibility certification

Dear Luis Soltero:

Iridium is pleased to confirm that 'Aurora' has completed the requirements for Iridium AxxessPoint Mail & Web mobile application compatibility.

Iridium does not certify or otherwise make any representation or warranty to the public or any third party or end user as to the quality, effectiveness, reliability, performance or safety of the Iridium AxxessPoint Mail & Web mobile application, and any representation or statement by Global Marine Networks (or its agents or distributors) to the contrary shall result in immediate withdrawal of such compatibility certification status.

In the event Iridium modifies, changes or revises the requirements for Iridium AxxessPoint Mail & Web mobile application compatibility certification, Global Marine Networks will need to comply with such requirements within thirty (30) business days in order to remain Iridium AxxessPoint Mail & Web mobile application compatible. Failure to comply with any new requirements shall result in the withdrawal of such compatibility certification status.
